

Course Completion %

With this implementation, in addition to sections within courses, we will now be introducing a progress bar at a course level that will appear to the learner.

User Story

As a learner, I want to be able to see how much I have completed a course as a whole at the top level without having to rely on individual element level progress tracking.

Acceptance Criteria:

- There will now be a progress bar/pill at the top of the first element of the course.
- The fill in the progress bar will be based on the number of elements completed.
- To the right of the bar, the completion fraction will be displayed.
- The numerator will be the number of lessons/assessments in the course that has been completed.
- The denominator will be the total number of lessons/assessments in the course.
- It will be updated in real time upon completion of each element.
- The progress bar will be visible only if a course has more than 1 'element'.
- In addition to this, for all in-progress courses of a learner, in the button, now along with resume, we will also display the % of the course that is to be completed.
