

Learning level - Reports(Phase 1,2)

User Stories

- As an admin/manager/course creator, I want to view overall analytics for a particular learning.
 - track completion
 - understand average level of performance
- As an admin/manager/course creator, I want to view individual analytics for each learner in a particular learning across his attempts/takes.
 - track performance and progression

UX flow

- Admin enters a learning that he created through the Manage Courses section.
- Alongside the learning by itself on the right panel, the admin will be able to view overall analytics of the learning in order to get an overview of the overall completion and performance.
- Below that, the admin views the list of all learners of the particular learning with 2 respective top data values displayed - this depends on the:
 - status of the learner(completed/in-progress/not started)
 - type of learning(call simulation/podcast/course)
- Admin will be able to expand a particular learner's analytics which will give him insight into more data values broken down by all his sessions/attempts/takes.
- Admin from the session-wise breakdown will be able to view the particular session's for complete analysis.
